ESTATE TO 'COST US PLENTY'

An Altona citizen this week told the Star the Paisley Housing Commission estate could devalue some properties in Altona North by up to 15 per cent.

Mr. Wally Trew, an electronic technician and salesman of Grieve Parade, said he had contacted a number of real estate agents in the western suburbs and had been told that in some cases the value of a house could drop from $25,000 to $18,000 overnight.

Furthermore, people who do not live close to the estate will still suffer," he said.

"They will face an increase in rates caused by devaluation of properties in Altona North and the extra facilities that council will have to provide for the Housing Commission tenants.

"After all, the Housing Commission is not going to provide all the facilities if it doesn't have to," Mr. Trew said.

"And the commission will be paying concessional rates for the property at the expense of other Altona rate-payers."

Mr. Trew said he had been told by real estate agents that depending on their location some houses would devalue from $18,000 to $15,000 and $15,000 to $13,000 as a result of the commission estate.

"To top all this, Altona Council is going to be faced with all kinds of complaints because the new estate will be right in line with prevailing winds, and any pollution from nearby industries will go straight there," he said.

"And how is Altona's small police strength going to cope with the extra 8000 people who will be brought into the area?" he asked.

After talking to Mr. Trew, the Star contacted Williamstown real estate agent, Mr. Norman Bernard who was not prepared to say by what percentage houses would devalue, or in fact if they would devalue.

"Without seeing the commission's plans, I could not comment," he said.

"However the effect is certainly more likely to be a suppressing one than an uplifting one.

"But then again if the commission planned it well, and tree-lined the area, the effect needn't be detrimental at all."

97 p. c. want new shops

The proposal to construct a shopping centre in Miller's Road, between Durosa Road and Beuron Avenue, Altona North, is supported by about 97 per cent. of the housewives in the locality, according to a survey conducted by the Roy Morgan Research Centre last month.

Results of the survey were released to the Star this week.

A probability sample of 204 housewives was surveyed at home on Saturday, April 14.

They were asked their attitudes to: present shopping facilities, and the proposed shopping centre in Miller's Road.

Only 22 per cent. of housewives interviewed said present shopping facilities in North Altona were good, 39 per cent. said they were fair, 35 per cent. said they were poor, and 4 per cent. didn't know.

At present many housewives in the vicinity of the proposed Miller's Road site, shop at several localities in the one week.

Sixty per cent. shop at Borrack Square, 26 per cent. at 16 Shops and 31 per cent. at Footscray, Yarraville, Sunshine and other places.

When asked what they thought of the proposal to build a shopping centre in Miller's Road, 97 per cent. said they supported it.

The most common reasons were "It would save travel", "It's closer", "More convenient", "There'll be a variety of shops", and "The competition will make things cheaper".

■ Mrs. Elizabeth Marson and one of her creations.

like handkerchief, duster, paper or stocking

To Mrs. Elizabeth Marson everyday objects are potential flowers.

Feather dusters, stockings, handkerchiefs and paper tissues become transformed into bridal bouquets by her skillful touch.

Mrs. Marson of Seaview Crescent, Seaholme, teaches floral art.

At 66, she has only about two years' experience, but her work shows a rare artistic sensitivity, a feeling for muted colors and unusual shapes.

Mrs. Marson joined the Victorian Horticultural Society to study live flowers and then did a two year diploma course in floral art.

"Even when I started to learn about floral art, I knew I wanted to teach," Mrs. Marson said.

"In class, I usually start people off with paper and wires to help them get the feel of it."

When the Star remarked on the realism of a bouquet of carnations made from tissue paper, Mrs. Marson said she'd had people pick it up and smell it.

"It's a compliment, I think," she said.

Growing her own straw flowers for dry flower arranging, Mrs. Marson keeps them in a cool place to dry.

"I've got the most jumbled house anyone could have," she said.

"It overflows — how it overflows!" she said, pointing to the flowers, ribbons and paper everywhere.

But oddly enough you don't notice. The only thing that commands attention is a table laden with flowers and bouquets of delicate beauty—made from heaven knows what.

Mrs. Marson confessed she's even experimented with fish scales!

MAYORAL MESSAGE

The April edition of the Altona City news sheet has recently been distributed to all properties in Altona.

By the Mayor of Altona,
Cr. HARRY WEAVER

I hope that everybody reads this carefully as it contains a lot of general information about our city and its citizens. As the councillor with portfolio responsibility of public relations, I have received a lot of satisfaction in compiling it during the past five years.

Constructive criticism and good suggestions would be appreciated. If these could be put in writing and addressed to the Town Clerk, Box 21, G.P.O. Altona, it would be greatly appreciated.

If we all take an active interest in our city, Altona will be an even bigger and better place in which to live.

A bird's eye view—Say, have you noticed the thousands of birds—flying type—that descend on the R. Logan Reserve opposite the Altona library at dusk every evening. If you haven't, you must make a trip and see this amazing sight—birds by the millions.

One word of warning don't stand under the Morton Bay fig tree or you will finish up looking like a bird—magpie variety. Which all goes to show the trees bring birds, birds make people happy, especially the fellas, so let's dig together and plant a tree in 1973.

Additional sewers—Hurrah!—The Board of Works has been considering tenders for further sewer extension in Altona. The area, known as area 1894, is bordered by Grieve Parade, Esplanade, Webb Street, Railway Street South, and contains over 200 properties. Expected cost is close to $1½ million.

April-May in Altona is tree planting time. — The mayoral motto is: "Plant a tree in 1973". The Altona Council and its outdoor garden staff ably led by parks and gardens superintendent, Norman Boyd, has started the spade work for our proposed giant tree planting scheme on the north side of Cherry Lake, adjacent to the levee bank. The first sod turn was by bulldozer. This was needed to remove the surface stones from the area. Next we will see fencing erected in plantation sizes of 40 feet by 120 feet.

This will allow for the starting of two rows of trees 10 feet apart and gives plenty of access for a watering truck to pass between the trees and also a lawn mower to cut the grass, if needed.

We are lucky that more than 500 trees have been donated by people of this community. It is good to see this team spirit in our city. Further along the levee bank east of Millers Road and the north side of houses in Noordenne Avenue, is another tree-planting scheme. Altona Council, in conjunction with the Board of Works, is planting a long line of trees along Kororoit Creek. These two projects are steps in the right direction to make Altona a garden city.

Just recently a yacht race was held at Cherry Lake. There were brightly colored sails everywhere. The race was the start of a yearly competition for small yachts skippered by small boys and girls and to be organised by Altona Yacht Club. About 100 people gathered to watch the eight or nine boats compete. The wind was fairly strong — ideal for yachting conditions.

First past the winning post was 13-year-old Jennifer Baker, of David Street, daughter of one of the yacht club members. Jennifer was handed a handsome perpetual trophy inscribed with the words: "The Harry Weaver Perpetual Trophy for the Annual Junior Cherry Lake Yacht Championship."

St. John Ambulance wing opening — Sunday, April 15.—The work of St. John Ambulance Brigade—a truly international organisation—is one which every thinking member of the community has a true appreciation of. The services of the organisation are entirely voluntary, given to the public free of charge. Wherever we go to public functions it is pleasing and of comfort to note that we always see St. John Ambulance people in attendance. People who have been well disciplined and instructed to give emergency service. The image which we receive from these members by their deportment and neat dress is one of assurance. Possibly, many people are not aware of the extent of personal service given by members, who incidentally buy their own uniforms.

For people interested in this field of community work, training can begin at nine years of age, through the cadet corps, and it is a marvellous training. Not only do they learn the fundamentals in first aid, but as they progress through their training they receive instruction in handling of vehicles, radio operation, bush craft, cliff rescue, public relations and welfare work.

This type of training equips young people to become excellent citizens. Just two years ago we witnessed the need for emergency disaster planning with the disaster of the Westgate Bridge. St. John Ambulance mobile units were on hand then.

Excess water charge — there is no such thing! Water, an essential need, is one of the cheapest commodities obtainable, and like gas, electricity and oil, is normally supplied through a meter. It is charged for at a price of 40 cents per 1000 gallons.

In order that the board has sufficient funds available to meet the annual cost of providing water to consumers, a minimum annual charge is levied on each property supplied or abutting a water main.

Following the annual meter reading, if the amount of water used is greater than the minimum annual charge, then the consumer must pay for the amount of water used.

It should be noted that if there was no minimum charge, it would be necessary to adopt a higher price per 1000 gallons of water so that the essential costs of operating and maintaining the water supply system could be met in a year when the demand for water was low, due to climatic conditions.

Water costs about 10 cents a ton delivered to a property and its cost to the consumer compares more than favorably with other household purchases.

Student's loss

An Altona student has had her school bag, containing $2 in cash and books to a total value of $75, stolen.

Elizabeth Allman, of Civic Parade, left the bag on a bag rack at Footscray Institute of Technology about 6 p.m. last Wednesday.

When she went for it about 7 p.m. it was missing.

Footscray CIB detectives are investigating.

Better housing for pigeons, dogs

Altona residents with dog kennels and pigeon lofts in their backyards, may soon have to comply with new standards set by Altona Council's health officers.

Council's health department is constantly receiving complaints referring to unsanitary and substandard dog and pigeon houses, many of which are sited adjacent to fences and neighboring properties.

Reporting to the recent meeting of Altona Council, the senior health inspector, Mr. John Russell, said it was proposed to put two basic designs of suitable house for both purposes, before council's next general purposes committee meeting.

Mr. Russell told council he had received two firm applications from residents wishing to build racing dog kennels.

Altona band big hit in NSW

Seaholme-based blues group, Terraplane, looks to be destined for a bright future following a successful tour of the Sapphire Coast in New South Wales during the Easter break.

The tour, a last minute arrangement by the group's agent, Ron Coleman, and Radio 2BE in Bega, NSW, gained many new fans for the three-piece boogie blues band. Terraplane, with their

The group also recorded a 15-minute interview with John Madrusan (formerly of Altona) of 2BE which was aired on the afternoon of the Tathra dance.

The trip was such a success that the members of the group were asked several times when they would be returning to NSW.

In the two-years since their formation, Terraplane has proved to be the most successful band produced in the area since the Henchmen and the Brown Eyed Handsom Jam.

Terraplane is comprised of "Lazy" Jim Kenvyn and "Rocky" Bill Boyd, both of Seaholme and Gary Graham of Yarraville.

Jim (lead and vocals) and Bill (bass) met during their days at Altona North High School and formed a folk duo, Lazy and the Rock.

They looked around for a drummer and found Gary Graham, who during his time with the group has already been approached by Broderick Smith (Carson) and Ross Wilson (Daddy Cool) with offers for work.

The band was the first to play at the now famous Station Hotel in Prahran and is also popular at the Big Fish in Frankston, Leo's Restaurant and many other venues.

Mr. Rennie gained his rank from the International Jiu-jitsu society after studying the self defence techniques taught by professor Kam Hock Hoe in Malaysia.

Persons interested in learning jiu-jitsu should attend the classes at the centre each Wednesday night, commencing at 7.00 p.m. or contact the youth club.

The manager of the store, Mr. Adrian Summers said on Tuesday, that everything is cheaper at his shop than at department stores.

Customers are free to inspect a mixmaster, for example and take it to the cashier, just as they would take other items at a self-service store.

A request by the Altona Historical Society for relics of the past has borne fruit - er fish.

Someone donated a stingray!

It was one of the first ever captured in Altona waters.

This particular specimen has, of course, received taxidermal treatment.

The Historical Society has also been offered the only concertina ever associated with a "contemporary" brass band.

It seems a lady was in the habit of playing this instrument at musical promenades held regularly adjacent to the jetty.

The society would now like to hear from people with old photographs and slides - especially those which portray interesting landmarks of yesteryears.

Everything collected by the society will be housed and displayed at "The Homestead", the first residence built in Altona over a century ago.

Paintings identified with the local scene in retrospect would receive a special appreciation.

Allan Clark's Short History of Altona is now under review by the City Council and it is expected that the volume will soon go to the publisher.

The play on the same subject is also nearing completion, and since this project will require a large company of participants, volunteers in all aspects (actors, designers, mechanics etc. are now being sought.

Interested parties should contact Mrs. L. C. Smith, 139 Queen Street, phone 398 2838. Mrs. Smith is president of the Altona Historical Society.

New junior basketball competition

The Western Suburbs Basketball Association has decided to start two new junior competitions.

The association wants supervisors and coaches for under-16 and under-18 teams.

Players must be under-16 and under-18 respectively on September 30 to be eligible.

The competition will be played at the Footscray Youth Club in Farnsworth Avenue, Footscray, near the Footscray Institute of Technology.

For further details, phone Les Glover (home - 37 4101) or Ken Burbridge (home - 68 1566, work - 68 6851, extension 311).

Best season for harriers

The final of Footscray Harrier's championships held at St. John's College, Braybrook, last Sunday, marked the end of the club's most successful track and field season.

Winners of the glamorous 800 metre events were Joe Murphy (senior), John Dovey (under-17), David Sommers (under-15) and Wayne Dovey (under-13).

Major achievements throughout the season were:

- A record number of members and teams.
- Two premierships.
- Four members shattering the 800 metres Australian relay record.
- Three Australian representatives.

The club's annual meeting will be held at the clubrooms, Western reserve, on Tuesday, May 8, starting at 7.45 p.m.

Let Gary Dempsey get you off to a great start.

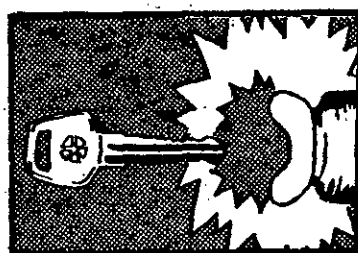

In a new Valiant from Footscray Chrysler

The star ruckman has joined another champion team at Footscray Chrysler. See Gary soon for the drive of your life, in a new model Valiant. Chrysler, Regal, Charger, Galant — we have a wide range of brand new models in stock right now. There's a new range of interiors to choose from and a host of options too. No waiting to test drive at Footscray Chrysler, we've got keys for everybody.

Electronic Ignition — A New Way To Start

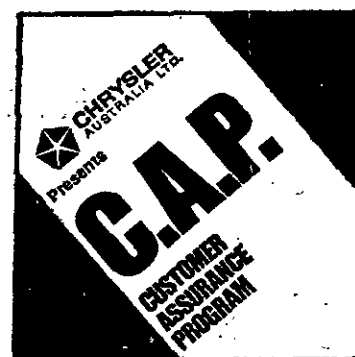

Turn the key to discover Chrysler's biggest innovation this year — electronic ignition. A system originally developed by Chrysler engineers for the Apollo space program, it gives easier cold & wet weather starting & puts a stop to a lot of problems. No points & condensor to wear out or replace; new car power for at least 50,000 miles; longer spark plug life.

Extra Care In Service

We've introduced a new program to prove that Footscray Chrysler really care. On top of the manufacturers normal 12/12 warranty, we offer you a 90 day/4000 mile warranty on parts & labour. We'll also loan you a car, if your in-warranty vehicle is out of action for more than 1 day.

Come see Gary and the rest of the team soon — we take Extra Care.

Open till 9.30 p.m., Mon.-Friday. All day Sat.

Methodists in footy win

Williamstown Methodists ran out winners in the weekend's football, beating Werribee in a hard, slogging game in which both defences played well.

SECONDS TAKE A DIVE

Anyone interested in playing Under-19 football is urged to attend training. This team is the future senior side — and they need all they can get at the moment.

Sandy's 66 scoring shots in 100 minutes of football MUST be a VFA record!

The fourths defeated Williamstown Methodists 8.9 to 6.3. Kerss booted four goals and the best player was Shaw. He was ably supported by Sandells, Doherty and Kenny.

The final scores were 8.11 to 6.6 in Methodists' favor.

Methodist goals: Serong 2, Foster, Clements, Walsh, Crocker, Smith, McLelland.

Methodist best: T. Russell, A. Fry, F. Raeside, R. Nicholls, J. Funston, J. Walsh.

JUNIOR RUGBY RESULTS

Results from Westgate Junior Rugby Union's matches at the weekend:

Under 12: Playing at The Strand Reserve, Newport, Williamstown-Altona were no match for the more experienced Sunshine combination led by State representative Colin McPherson.

McPherson provided the main driving force and turned in the highest scoring capacity.

The combine, however, is expected to improve rapidly over the next few games, as their players gain experience.

Scores: SUNSHINE 30 d. Williamstown-Altona 0. Best: Aaron Kingshott, Brendon Humphries, Brett Hudson, Darren Anderson.

UNDER 16. At Middle Park, an exciting game was seen between Westgate and Power House.

Power House had more ball possession with more scoring chances, which Westgate, however, stemmed well in defence, until their tackling fell apart.

Good attacking runs by Westgate were similarly stopped by Power House.

Scores: POWER HOUSE 26, Westgate 10.

Best: Rodney, Smellie, Dale Anderson, Michael Hudson.

UNDER 16. At The Strand Reserve, Altona went down to last year's winners in a well fought game that showed a good year ahead for Altona.

With three newcomers to the game and the return after a couple of years of two others, Altona showed magnificent dedication.

Scores: Power House 24 d. Altona 7.

Best: Peter Gaitan, Peter Phillips, William McKendrick, Steven White.

DO YOU NEED A CRECHE?

Mrs. Carruthers, the municipal welfare officer of Altona is currently making a survey to investigate the needs for a creche within the municipality.

The Principal of Altona High School, Mr. McDonald received this news in a letter from the Council.

The establishment of a creche in the school's vicinity would encourage married women teachers to return to work. Mr. McDonald said last week. He urges residents who are interested in this idea to communicate with the Council.

The latest member of the staff, Miss Richardson, comes from America. The school is still short of two teachers — a librarian and an art teacher.

THE STARS

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You could strike some trouble with those in authority over you this week, so don't start agitating for a rise in your pay envelope because you will be disappointed. If you feel like branching out a bit, wait for a better period. Prominent shade is lemon. Favored number is four.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): This could prove quite a bad week if you are not careful to examine the truth of everything you are told. There will be some chance of a clever talker trying to put over a fast deal on you, so be on the safe side and discredit tall tales. Fortunate shade is grey. Best number is seven.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You are heading towards a much more beneficial period at present and the social side of your life will take precedence over all others. Attractive invitations will be the order of the day and there is the likelihood of new friendships. Recommended shade is lilac. Fortunate number is six.

CANCER (June 21-July 20): This could be a wonderful week for you with financial gain in the offing through an influential friend or relative. A period when you should extract the maximum amount of good from your home environment, especially concerning your children. Best shade is orange. Luckiest number is nine.

LEO (July 21-August 22): Mainly a very nice week when you will be very popular with friends and those around you in your job. However, you will have to keep a watch out for some malicious person who will resent your good fortune and try to upset your plans. Significant shade is indigo. Your best number is two.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Here is a definitely more profitable few days for you when the opportunity of a new job or some rise in your career is very probable. You should make the most of your chances while they last. Business deals are yours for the asking. Good shade is gold. Favored number is eight.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): There are setbacks in store for you this week, so be wise and don't try stepping out of turn. Your superiors will most likely snub you if you should ask them for favors, so keep out of trouble and stay among the back rows. Dominating shade is brown. Favorable number is two.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Not a good period for signing papers or dealing with any legal matters. If you do engage in such matters, be very careful to read everything through before putting pen to paper. There is the possibility of sharp practice just now. Favored shade is lime. A good number is five.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 22): There is quite a nice period in store for you this week with the accent on friends and social functions. You might find yourself at some party where several prominent artists are invited and meeting them will be exciting. Fortunate shade is mauve. Luckiest number is six.

CAPRICORN (December 23-January 20): A somewhat mixed period for you just now, but you will break even so long as you don't trust interesting strangers who might try to kid you a bit and embarrass you. Put your faith in those you know and nothing unpleasant will befall you. Best shade is violet. Good number is seven.

AQUARIUS (January 21-February 18): This is not the best time for travel because there is the risk of baggage going astray, wrong reservations of seats and the like. If you must journey away during this week, double check on all your bookings and be on the safe side. Dominant shade is gunmetal. Good number is two.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Generally an excellent week for you and there is the possibility of gaining that coveted new job you have been waiting for, so don't miss chances. You might even gain an uplift through someone leaving at your present employment. Predominating shade is red. Favorable number is one.
